I am an enthusiastic, highly organised, and adaptable professional with excellent communication and leadership skills, coupled with a deep passion for music and the arts. Since graduating from the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland in 2018, I have built a diverse and dynamic career, gaining extensive performing experience as a freelance trumpet and keyboard player, musical director, and music producer.

My portfolio spans a range of creative projects, including musical direction for theatrical productions, collaborations with signed artists, and producing music using industry-standard tools such as Logic Pro, Pro Tools, Mainstage, and Sibelius. I am a meticulous and hardworking team player who consistently strives for excellence, whether leading a team or working independently.

In addition, I bring a unique perspective shaped by my experience living with Osteogenesis Imperfecta (Brittle Bones), a physical disability that I have never let define or limit my achievements. Using crutches and a wheelchair as needed, I have developed resilience, adaptability, and a proactive mindset that contribute to my success in challenging and dynamic environments.
